Executive Summary

Hello! This is your Trends Report for October 04, 2026. We analyzed 20 stocks across global markets using our Trend Score system — think of it like a health checkup that measures 5 vital signs for each stock. The big picture: 20 stocks are gaining strength, while 0 are weakening. Your top 3 opportunities this period are 3396.HK (94.4/100, HK$24.00), 4961.TW (94.3/100, NT$183.50), 011560.KQ (92.4/100, ₩24,400). 20 stocks scored in our 'Strong' zone (70+) — these are the standouts worth a closer look. Below we explain what each score means in plain English, show you the full rankings, and give you practical guidance on what to do with this information.

How to read this report:

- Trend Score (0-100) — Higher = stronger signal. Think of 70+ as an 'A' grade, 55-69 as 'B', 40-54 as 'C'.
- Price & Market Cap — What the stock costs and the company's total value. Larger companies tend to be more stable.
- Score Zone — Green = Strong, Blue = Good, Orange = Watch, Red = Caution.
- Sector — Which industry the company operates in (Tech, Healthcare, Energy, etc.)

Important: These scores are based on data and algorithms — they are NOT buy/sell recommendations. Always consider your own financial situation, do additional research, and ideally consult a financial advisor before making investment decisions.

Risk Analysis & Watch List

No significant risk flags detected in the current dataset. Diversification across sectors and market caps appears healthy.

Methodology & Score Guide

How we calculate these scores — in plain English:

1. Signal Strength (30% of score)

How strong is the stock's overall rating? We combine 14 different investing strategies — from bargain-hunting (Deep Value) to growth-chasing (Momentum) to dividend-collecting — and see how well the stock scores across all of them.

2. Strategy Agreement (25% of score)

How many of our strategies agree this is a good pick? If 10 out of 14 strategies say 'yes', that's a much stronger signal than if only 2 agree. Think of it like getting multiple second opinions.

3. Win Probability (20% of score)

Based on historical patterns, what are the odds this signal leads to a positive outcome? This is our best estimate, not a guarantee — the market is always unpredictable.

4. Market Conditions (15% of score)

Is now a good time for this type of stock? Some stocks do better in bull markets, others in sideways or defensive markets. We factor in the current environment.

5. Trading Activity (10% of score)

Is there real institutional interest, or just noise? Above-average trading volume with healthy patterns suggests genuine market interest.

Score guide: 70+ = Strong | 55-69 = Good/Improving | 40-54 = Steady/Neutral | Below 40 = Weakening
